

Inside SEA

News and information for employees
at Seattle-Tacoma International Airport

SEA
Seattle-Tacoma
International Airport

FlyHealthy@SEA this Fall

The safety, health and well-being of our employees and passengers are our priority at SEA. In response to the pandemic, we launched FlyHealthy@SEA, a layered, multi-phased action plan to employee and traveler health.

We escalated cleaning and disinfecting, implemented physical distancing, and added touchless technologies. We require all passengers, visitors, and employees at SEA Airport to wear face coverings.

Keep an eye out for our Mask Up SEA Street Team, airport employees who roam the terminals distributing SEA Care Kits to travelers or employees without masks or face coverings. So far, volunteers handed out over 6,500 SEA Care Kits!

You can also pick up a mask at our Info Hub, located at the ticketing level between checkpoints 3 and 4.

By the numbers:

- Spritzed, sprayed, and dispensed over 1,268 gallons of hand sanitizer, more than 5,012 ounces of disinfecting spray and 1,394 containers of sanitizer wipes 85 percent of airport dining and retail tenants are open

- 85 percent of airport dining and retail tenants are open
- Added over 250 hand sanitizer stations throughout the terminal
- Added almost 5,000 signs and floor decals with reminders for physical distancing and close to 300 plastic protective barriers installed that buffer interactions between passengers and airport workers

FlyHealthy@SEA will continue to evolve as travelers return to the airport. For the latest, follow us on social media with #FlyHealthySEA.

Did you know?

Sanitizer stations and wearing masks are the two most important actions we can take in all airport touchpoints?

Good thing we have over 250 hand sanitizer stations and are at 93% compliance in folks wearing masks!

Be counted.
For you.
For your community.
For your future.
Complete the census.

Be Counted: Complete the Census by Sept. 30

Every 10 years, we have an opportunity to shape our community's future. As a growing community, completing the 2020 Census helps the federal government and local leaders direct critical services fairly and where they are most needed.

The census is how we count people living in the country — every resident, regardless of immigration status. There is still time to complete the census, but act soon — the deadline is September 30.

Funding for hospitals, education, social services, public transportation, infrastructure projects, and emergency response all depend upon accurate census population counts. Census data also determines our community's representation at a local, state, and federal level.

We all use these resources and we all pay taxes, whether we are citizens, residents, undocumented migrants or temporary workers. This is our time to join together and make sure each and every person is seen and counted.

Take 10 minutes and complete the census online or by phone in more than 59 different languages. Visit 2020Census.gov to complete the census or call (844) 330-2020.

In this issue:

- FlyHealthy@SEA this fall
- Take the 2020 Census
- AntoGen face coverings
- MORE

Inside SEA is a Port of Seattle publication produced for people working at SEA Airport. We welcome your comments and story tips.

Contact the editor at drawhorn.o@portseattle.org or call (206) 787-4058.

Fall 2020

SEA Restauranters Support Essential Workers

Daniel Nguyen and Katherine Lam, owners of Bambuza Vietnam Kitchen, love giving back to their community, whether through distributing care packages for the homeless or partnering with local schools.

They saw how COVID-19 was impacting their communities and found an opportunity to make a difference.

Nguyen and Lam started AntoGen Outfitters, named for their daughters Antoinette and Genevieve, to provide free face coverings to non-profit community service organizations that care for low-income and underserved populations in the region.

To turn their venture from a dream to reality, they connected with a factory in Vietnam to develop a line of comfortable cloth face coverings for sale to individuals, businesses, organizations, and public agencies. Sales from these face coverings help fund free distribution to those in need.

An initial donation of 5,000 cloth face coverings is being distributed throughout the Seattle and Portland regions. Over time, Lam and Nguyen plan to donate 100,000 face coverings to farmworkers, domestic workers, food service, and grocery workers in need.

Every purchase of AntoGen's Triple-Layer Comfort Mask helps fund more grants to more people in the community. The Port purchased 4,000 of their face coverings for dining and retail tenants and airport workers to keep SEA safe for employees and travelers.

All sales will fund donations of face coverings to vulnerable populations in our region.

Learn more: <https://www.antogenusa.com/> or <http://bambuza.com/>

Resources and Trainings for Airport Employees

Download See Say App

Help keep our airport secure. Download the See Something Say Something airport reporting app to report security and maintenance concerns to SEA.

Use the app to discreetly send photos, videos, and messages to SEA airport operations. Read about See Say best practices: <http://bit.ly/seesaybestpractice>

Please continue to report safety and hazard issues through Origami, and airside hazards through 787-SAFE.

Airport Jobs

Airport Jobs offers education, career advancement and resources for airport employees.

Airport University Classes

Take free live, online college classes and earn credits at Highline College. This fall, Airport U is offering:

Career Success Skills – Create a resume, practice interviewing, and build a job search portfolio.

Introduction to Computers – Learn computer and technology basics, including using Zoom, storing and managing documents, and software programs.

Classes run from September 29 to December 16. Learn more and register online: www.portjobs.org.

Health Insurance Enrollment Fairs

Ask questions and get free in-person assistance enrolling in an affordable health insurance plan. Find out if you qualify for a pre-loaded $10 ORCA LIFT bus pass and get a $25 gift card for attending. Masks required.

When: September 24, 2020 / October 29, 2020 / November 19, 2020 / December 17, 2020
10:00 am – 4:00 pm

Where: Airport Jobs office, SEA Airport; Mezzanine level, Room 6626.

Learn more: <http://bit.ly/portjobshealth>

Questions: Email airport-jobs.mailbox@portseattle.org or call (206) 787-7501.

Fair Work Center

Know Your Rights at Work: A Training Series for Airport Workers

Attend a free training to learn about worker rights under SeaTac's Proposition 1. Learn more and sign up at www.fairworkcenter.org/know-your-rights/sea-airport.

Please register to receive the Zoom link and call-in info. For questions and language accommodations, contact Mohamed Ahmed at mohamed@fairworkcenter.org.

Subscribe to This Week at SEA

Email thisweekatsea@portseattle.org to receive weekly updates on airport news and events.

PO Box 68727
Seattle, WA 98168-0727
www.flySEA.org

Operated by the Port of Seattle

Get email and text updates

Sign up via our website and follow us on social media

www.portseattle.org/subscribe @flySEA